OVERVIEW

Course Description

This virtual program offers an immersive online experience to faculty and students towards a broader understanding and enhanced knowledge of Europe's past and present, which is essential for today's economic and political leaders to succeed. This program will give an overview of Continental Europe and its institutions, the European Union's (EU) structure and member states, traditions and differences. We will go even further into current topics, in-depth information and reflections on the future of European Institutions and the EU's political and economic structures.

Learning Outcomes

After completing this virtual program, students will be able to:

- Acquire knowledge of Strasbourg, the Capital of Europe.
- Name the main European institutions and briefly explain their functions.
- Explain the history of the EU, its functioning and some policies.
- Describe the EU's International Relations with the United States.
- Understand and explain migration and human rights issues in Europe.
- Explain the different roles of the European Commission (in Brussels) and the European Parliament (in Strasbourg).
- Describe the role of a Member of the European Parliament (MEP).
- Narrate a day of the local life and culture in a European city.

STRUCTURE

Roles

The University and Faculty Leader

The faculty leader and/or study abroad officer chooses the modules and components for this program, which can be integrated into the course syllabus and contribute to the internationalization of the curriculum.

CEPA Program Manager

A dedicated program manager will be the main contact throughout the program development, delivery and closing, and will facilitate institutional connections, content support and coordination. They oversee the effective and timely set up, help coordinate with the institutions and experts, and schedule live activity sessions. The program manager also provides technical assistance, supporting the work of the faculty, students and experts.

Cultural Ambassador

A cultural ambassador at the European destination will bring a personal touch and connection with the city and country in various virtual formats (live and pre-recorded). They will carry out creative activities virtually with the students and the faculty.

KEY COMPONENTS

Connect and Exchange

Live sessions will provide a unique interaction with experts, lecturers and local actors.

Expert Lectures, Presentations, Q&A, Interviews

CEPA will coordinate with guest experts to hold sessions on selected themes based on their expertise. These sessions can be live or be pre-recorded based on the availability of the experts and time difference.

Institutional Visits

Visits can be carried out virtually to European institutions and international organizations. The visits can be done live or can be pre-recorded based on the availability of the institutions and time difference.

Roundtables

A live session for students to discuss in an informal setting to examine key issues, challenges and opportunities related to a specific topic. Guest experts may also join the discussion.

Symposium

The symposium features a variety of virtual presentations from keynote speakers, dynamic panel discussions, and active dialogues with other European students, scholars, politicians, and business leaders.

Workshops

A hands-on guided activity that can be done live and/or offline in student groups with the guiding support of the faculty leader and a guest expert.

Discussion Forums

Thematic non-moderated discussion forums allow faculty and students to interact with each other regarding the course content and/or specific topics depending on the module. Students can also start related topic discussions.

Technical Support Forum

In this forum, faculty and students can address their questions to CEPA about technical issues related to the program's virtual learning platform or the program.

Module Surveys

Virtual modules will have a brief online survey at the end for students and faculty to provide constructive feedback based on their experience. CEPA will analyze the feedback to evaluate the quality of its virtual offer for quality assurance purposes.

Virtual learning platform

CEPA offers a dedicated easy-to-use web platform that serves as a virtual classroom with all modules, material, activities and resources related to this program. This program will further enhance the faculty's course syllabus and the group's unique international virtual experience.
